

Create a memorable story for those who don't know which letters to use for the sound 'er'

ur

I met a funny little man in the woods on Thursday. He had curly hair and purple skin and really big furry ears. He had purple fur on his hands and feet.

'Do not be afraid', I said 'I will not hurt you.'

He told me his name was Burb and that he had come from another planet called Saturn. He said he was lost and he was looking for his spaceship in the woods. The ship was going to return to his planet on Saturday and so he did not have much time.

I said that if we burn some twigs and make some smoke, the smoke would burst up into the air and his friends from the spaceship would see the smoke curling up and they would come and find him.

Sure enough when his friends saw the smoke from the burning twigs they turned up and took him back to the spaceship.

On Saturday they all returned to their planet Saturn.
